PART III – ISSUES, LAW AND ARGUMENT

Issues

25. The issues before this Court, and addressed below, are:

- a) Does this Court have jurisdiction to appoint the Receiver?
- b) Should this Court appoint the Receiver?
- c) If this Court decides to appoint the Receiver, then are the terms of the Receivership Order appropriate in the circumstances of this receivership?

(a) This Court has jurisdiction to appoint the Receiver

26. Subsection 243(5) of the BIA provides that an application under subsection 243(1) of the BIA is to be filed in a court having jurisdiction in the judicial district of the “locality of the debtor”, which is defined in section 2 of the BIA.

BIA, s. 2, Schedule “B”; BIA, s. 243\(5\), Schedule “B”.

27. While the Debtor is a British Columbia corporation with its registered office in Vancouver, British Columbia, the business carried on by the Debtor that is subject to the proposed receivership includes premises located in Windsor, Ontario. The locality of the Debtor is, therefore, Ontario, and this application is properly brought before the Ontario Superior Court of Justice.

Yukon (Government of) v. Yukon Zinc Corporation, 2019 YKSC 39 (CanLII), para 41.

28. Subsection 243(4) of the BIA provides that only a trustee, as defined in section 2 of the BIA, may be appointed under subsection 234(1) of the BIA.

BIA, s. 2, Schedule “B”; BIA, s. 243\(4\), Schedule “B”.

29. Spergel is a trustee as defined in the BIA, and therefore, satisfies the requirements for appointment pursuant to the BIA.

(b) This Court should appoint the Receiver

30. Section 244(1) requires that a secured creditor provide an insolvent person with the requisite advance notice of its intention to enforce security.

BIA, s. 244\(1\), Schedule “B”.

31. The Applicant sent the Demands together with its Notice of Intention to Enforce Security pursuant to such section of the BIA, to the Debtor on November 25, 2024, and this application is being heard on a date that is after the date on which any applicable notice periods expired.

32. Section 101 of the Courts of Justice Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. C-43, as amended (the “CJA”) provides for the appointment of a receiver by this Court where it is “just and convenient”. Section 243(1) of the BIA also provides that, on an application by a secured creditor, this Court may appoint a receiver if it considers it to be just and convenient to do so to: (a) take possession over the assets of an insolvent person; (b) exercise any control that the Court considers advisable over the property and business; or (c) take any other action that the Court considers advisable.

CJA, s. 101, Schedule “B”; BIA, s. 243\(1\) and 243\(2\), Schedule “B”.

33. Where the loan agreement and related transaction documents contemplate the appointment of a receiver, this Court may have regard to the principles summarized by Justice Newbould in RMB Australia Holdings Limited v. Seafield Resources Ltd.:

28 In determining whether it is “just or convenient” to appoint a receiver under either the BIA or CJA, Blair J., as he then was, in Bank of Nova Scotia v. Freure Village on Clair Creek (1996), 40 C.B.R. (3d) 274 (Ont. Gen. Div. [Commercial List]) stated that in deciding whether the appointment of a receiver was just or convenient, the court must have regard to all of the circumstances but in particular the nature of the property and the rights and interests of all parties in relation thereto, which includes the rights of the secured creditor under its security. He also referred to the relief being less extraordinary if a security instrument provided for the appointment of a receiver:

While I accept the general notion that the appointment of a receiver is an extraordinary remedy, it seems to me that where the security instrument permits the appointment of a private receiver — and even contemplates, as this one does, the secured creditor seeking a court appointed receiver — and where the circumstances of default justify the appointment of a private receiver, the “extraordinary” nature of the remedy sought is less essential to the inquiry. Rather, the “just or convenient” question becomes one of the Court determining, in the exercise of its discretion, whether it is more in the interests of all concerned to have the receiver appointed by the Court or not.

29 See also Elleway Acquisitions Ltd. v. Cruise Professionals Ltd., 2013 ONSC 6866 (Ont. S.C.J. [Commercial List]), in which Morawetz J., as he then was, stated:

...while the appointment of a receiver is generally regarded as an extraordinary equitable remedy, courts do not regard the nature of the remedy as extraordinary or equitable where the relevant security document permits the appointment of a receiver. This is because the applicant is merely seeking to enforce a term of an agreement that was assented to by both parties. See Textron Financial Canada Ltd. v. Chetwynd Motels Ltd., 2010 BCSC 477, [2010] B.C.J. No. 635 at paras. 50 and 75 (B.C. S.C. [In Chambers]); Freure Village, supra, at para. 12; Canadian Tire Corp. v. Healy, 2011 ONSC 4616, [2011] O.J. No. 3498 at para. 18 (S.C.J. [Commercial List]); Bank of Montreal v. Carnival National Leasing Limited and Carnival Automobiles Limited, 2011 ONSC 1007, [2011] O.J. No. 671 at para. 27 (S.C.J. [Commercial List]).

RMB Australia Holdings Limited v. Seafield Resources Ltd., 2014 ONSC 5205 \(CanLII\), paras. 28-29.

34. The existence of a contractual right to appoint a receiver in the loan agreement and related transaction documents is key. Where the rights of the secured creditor include, pursuant to the terms of its security, the right to seek the appointment of a receiver, the burden on the applicant is lessened: while the appointment of a receiver is generally an extraordinary equitable remedy, the courts do not so regard the nature of the remedy where the relevant security permits the appointment and as a result, the applicant is merely seeking to enforce a term of an agreement already made by both parties.

Elleway Acquisitions Limited v. The Cruise Professionals Limited, 2013 ONSC 6866 \(CanLII\) at para 27.

35. This relief that is granted more as a matter of course, becomes even less extraordinary when dealing with a default under a mortgage. That is the case here.

BCIMC Construction Fund Corporation et al. v. The Clover on Yonge Inc., 2020 ONSC 1953 \(CanLII\) at paragraph 44.

36. This even further lowered burden in cases in which there has been a default by a mortgagor is described by Justice Farley in Confederation Life Insurance Co. v. Double Y Holdings Inc.:

20 I must also note that there appears to be a major distinction between those case where the borrower is in default and those where it is not (or a receiver is being asked for in say a shareholder dispute - e.g. Goldtex Mines Ltd. v. Nevill (1974), 7 O.R. (2d) 216 (Ont. C.A.)). See Receiverships, Bennet (1985), at p.91 referring to: "In many cases, a security holder whose instrument charges all or substantially all of the debtor's property will request a court - appointed receivership if the debtor is in default". (In this case the plaintiffs have a very strong case - not only are the loans in default, they have matured). See also Kerr on Receiverships (1983), 16th ed. at p.5:

There are two main classes of cases in which appointment is made: (1) to enable persons who possess rights over property to obtain the benefit of those rights and to preserve the property, pending realization, where ordinary legal remedies are defective and (2) to preserve property from some danger which threatens it.

Appointment to Enforce Rights

In the first class of cases are included those in which the court appoints a receiver at the instance of a mortgagee whose principal is immediately payable or whose interest is in arrear. ... In such cases the appointment is made as a matter of course as soon as the applicant's right is established and it is unnecessary to allege any danger to the property.

Confederation Life Insurance Co. v. Double Y Holdings Inc.*, 1991 CarswellOnt 1511 (Ont. S.C.J. (Commercial List)) ["Confederation Life"], para. 20, Tab 1 of the Applicant's Book of Authorities.

37. In the present case, the Debtor is in default under the loan agreement and related transaction documents and the Mortgage is immediately payable, meaning that this is the first class of cases referred in Confederation Life. In this sort of case, allegations of danger to the property are not necessary, though such allegations do exist in this case, as described in the Ngo Affidavit.

Confederation Life*, para. 20.

38. Thus, with the Applicant's contractual entitlement to appoint a receiver and the existence of a mortgage default, the appointment of a receiver is not extraordinary relief, and the burden has been lowered further. With this lower burden, the following additional "just or convenient" factors identified by Justice Farley in Confederation Life may be considered:

- a) The lenders' security is at risk of deteriorating;
- b) There is need to stabilize and preserve the Debtor's business;
- c) Loss of confidence in the Debtor's management; and,
- d) Positions and interests of other creditors.

Confederation Life* paras. 19-24.

39. It is not essential that the moving party/secured creditor establish that it will suffer irreparable harm if a receiver/manager is not appointed.

Swiss Bank Corporation (Canada) v. Odyssey Industries Incorporated* (1995), 30 C.B.R. (3d) 49 at paragraph 28, Tab 2 of the Applicant's Book of Authorities.

40. When the above Confederation Life factors are applied to this case, the Applicant submits that the burden to appoint a receiver has been met and that such appointment is just and convenient in the circumstances:

- a) The Debtor contractually agreed to the appointment of a receiver. The loan agreements and the related transaction documents among the Applicant and the Debtor expressly entitle the Applicant to appoint a receiver under certain circumstances, including the present circumstances. The Applicant now exercises these entitlements, subject to this Court's authority.
- b) The loan agreement is in default. As set out above, events of default have occurred and are continuing under the loan agreement and the related transaction documents. The Applicant has demanded on the Obligations. The Applicant provided the Debtor with statutory notice of their intention to enforce security, and the applicable notice periods have elapsed.
- c) The lenders' security is at risk of deteriorating. The Bank is concerned that the Debtor does not have the working capital needed to maintain the Real Property. If the property of the Debtor, including the Real Property, deteriorates, the realizable value of the Security will diminish as a result.
- d) The Debtor's business needs to be stabilized and preserved. The Debtor's liquidity crisis will continue to worsen in the absence of action. A receiver will be able to take the necessary steps to preserve the Security, including conducting an orderly sale process that will generate recoveries for creditors. If the Debtor's business experiences further disarray, or the Security is not preserved, there will be further negative consequences.
- e) The Applicant has lost confidence in the Debtor's management. The Debtor has not cured the Defaults and has not advised or provided evidence of alternatives to a receivership that stand any reasonable chance of success, despite significant time in which to do so. The Applicant has justifiably lost confidence in the management of the Debtor due to the events described in the Ngo Affidavit.

- f) Position and interests of other Creditors. The Applicant is not the only creditor of the Debtor. As at the date of this Factum, no creditor has opposed the receivership application. The Receiver will be able to properly and equitably deal with the interests of creditors other than the Applicant. A receivership provides parties with an effective forum in which to deal with any issues, including any competing claims, that may arise in respect of the Debtor and its property.

41. As at the date of this Factum, the Applicant is not aware of any restructuring efforts by the Debtor that stands any reasonable chance of success.

(c) The Terms of the Receivership Order are Appropriate

42. The terms of the proposed Receivership Order are substantially the same as the terms of the Commercial List's model receivership order, and the modifications to same are indicated in the blacklined copy provided.

Blackline of the draft Order against the Model Receivership Order; Application Record, Tab 1, Schedule "A-2".

PART IV – ORDER REQUESTED

43. For the reasons set forth herein and in the Application Record, it is respectfully submitted that the appointment of a receiver is just and convenient and is necessary for the protection of the estate of the Debtor and the interests of the Bank and other stakeholders.

44. The Bank respectfully requests that this Honourable Court grant the Appointment Order substantially in the form attached as Schedule "A" to the Notice of Application.

ALL OF WHICH IS RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED this 11 day of February, 2025
